ELIZABETHAN '68

reflecting on . . .

To everything there is a season,
And a time to every purpose under the heaven:
A time to be born, and a time to die;
A time to plant and a time to pluck up that which is planted;
A time to kill, and a time to heal;
A time to break down, and a time to build up;
A time to weep, and a time to laugh;
A time to mourn, and a time to dance;
A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together;
A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;
A time to get, and a time to lose;
A time to keep, and a time to cast away;
A time to rend, and a time to sew;
A time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
A time to love, and a time to hate;
A time of war, and a time of peace.
What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboreth?

Ecclesiastes 3:1-9

OUR T

TIMES

Our Times . . . ACADEMICALLY

In the constantly changing world of today it is necessary for the school system to continuously update and modernize its curriculum and teaching methods. The school's function is not only to prepare students for individual experiences but also to help them find their place in the family, the community and the world. Accepting the challenge of the future, EAHS offers courses which recognize differences in students' abilities and needs, stimulate thought and prepare students for college or a vocation.

Our Times . . . SOCIALLY

Social events at EAHS provide an opportunity for students to cultivate new interests and use their individual talents in cooperating with others in a group. This enables them to build a strong but flexible foundation for future relationships as responsible citizens in the modern world.

LET'S

Our Times . . . PHYSICALLY

Competition necessary for developing strong bodies and minds is stressed in intramural and interscholastic sports activities offered to interest EAHS students. Physical fitness is also the aim of physical education classes, mandatory throughout high school. Enduring strength of a structure is based upon its foundation, and the success of a school depends upon its strong, fit students.

You have given us our time to be born and our time to die, our time to plant and our time to pluck up that which is planted, our time to keep silence and our time to speak. You have shared with us our time to weep and our time to laugh, our time to get and our time to lose, our time for war and our time for peace.

Your wise and just guidance has strengthened and directed the growth of our character. Because you are the symbol of our growth, we give to you our small expression of gratitude and love. We, the class of 1968, dedicate our times to you, our parents.

VISITOR

Our senior class was privileged this year to include in its roll call a bubbly, impish French girl with the seemingly Pennsylvania Dutch name of Edith Martin. An exchange student from Annecy, France, Edie came to the United States in cooperation with the Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren and the International Christian Youth Exchange Program. She stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wenger and their daughter Lyndia.

Edie's artistic talent and creativity are matched only by her independence and her adherence to the adage "Be thyself". Edie hates compliments, regimentation, deadlines, cats falseness, and interviews. She likes cheese, "her" dog Kelly, Linus and Snoopy, posters, stairs, reading, and classical guitar. Her great love is skiing, and Jean-Claude Killy who brought home to her native country three Olympic gold medals this year.

Having already finished high school in France where activities are limited, Edie involved herself in many here at EAHS. She was on the hockey team, the only senior on the girl's track team, a member of gym club, Student Council, and yearbook staff. She also took a course at Elizabethtown College during her Educational Opportunity Time. She spent time learning to drive and was as proud as the rest of us when she earned her operator's license.

While all the new things Edie experienced this year are too numerous to mention, we can say that she was a new experience for us. As she learned from us, we learned from her. Edie will be returning to France, but we at EAHS will always remember the green-eyed, quick-smiling French girl who proved to us that individuality is good, but people are basically the same everywhere. Merci, Edie. Nous t'aimons.

"The Diary of Anne Frank", our junior class play, was presented March 10 and 11, 1967, under the direction of John Dean, with Margie Hollinger as student director. The play, written by Francis Goodrich and Albert Hackett, is based on the actual diary of a young Jewish girl who, along with her family, is forced into hiding in Amsterdam in order to resist the German occupation of World War II. The Franks are joined by Mr. and Mrs. Van Daan and their son Peter, and Mr. Dussel, a dentist. Their only contact with the outside world is through Mr. Kraler and Miep. Never able to leave the tiny attic rooms, never able to make the slightest noise, the tension becomes almost unbearable in the Secret Annex, Anne's name for their hide-out. At the slightest sound from the outside world, the characters freeze in terror. Many problems also develope among them: Anne continues to be antagonistic toward her mother and resents being constantly compared to her sister Margot, Mr. Van Daan has trouble adjusting to the food shortage, and a love affair blossoms between Anne and Peter, which is hindered by the proximity of the others. After months of tension and suspense, the Gestapo finally discover the Secret Annex, adding a dramatic climax to the story.

EAHS was honored to be chosen for a visit from a delegation of educators and lay persons from Eastern Kentucky Educational Corporation, Floyd County, Kentucky. An investigation had been made under the auspices of Morehead University, Kentucky, to research modern programs used by district schools throughout the country. Miss Tyson, official consultant for Elizabethtown Area School District's programs for the Kentucky delegation, was invited to explain our programs to them at their summer workshop, July and August, 1967.

The delegation, consisting of 24 administrators, teachers and school board members, arrived October 30 to spend three days studying new programs in our school district to possibly adopt in their own school system. They expressed particular interest in the flexibility of our team teaching, the multi-level arrangement of students according to the ability or willingness in the subject, the three track program of stress on social studies, English, science and math, the reading program, the six-year language program, and Educational Opportunity Time. The group was honored at a tea by the faculty and administration and also spent time touring Hershey, Harrisburg and the Amish country.

Harvest Queen Reigns At Football Game And Dance

Lucy Greiner, chosen as Harvest Queen by vote of the senior class, was presented with roses by Mr. Steinhart on October 13, prior to the homecoming football game against Hempfield. Her court included: Judi Calhoun, escorted by Bob Flick; Wafi Eshelman, escorted by George Weigle; Jan Garber, escorted by Bill Saltzer; and Dawn Hoover, escorted by Gary Dysart. They were honored at the annual Harvest Hop, sponsored by Student Council and held in the lobby November 4. Pumpkins and cornstalks set the atmosphere while the Great Society provided the music.

Mr. Ken Emenheiser, a graduate at EAHS, is now a member of the Marine Band.

"The President's Own" United States Marine Band performed November 17 for a special assembly in the afternoon. The fifty-piece band, under the direction of Lt. Col. Albert Schoepper, is the official White House Band, the only musical group that plays regularly at White House social functions. Established in 1798 by President John Adams, it is the oldest military musical organization in our country. The world-famous band was sponsored by Elizabethtown Kiwanis Club and performed again in the evening for the public.

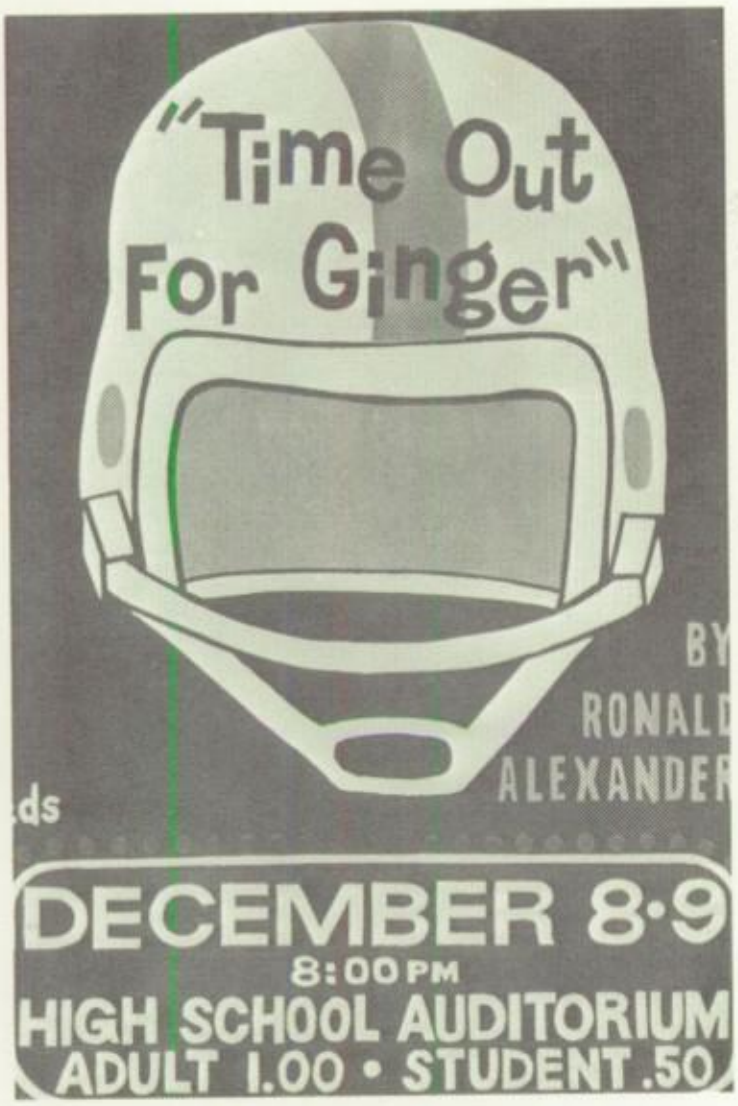
Senior Class Play Is A Comedy



The problems and misadventures of a typical American family were humorously portrayed in our senior class play "Time Out for Ginger", presented December 8 and 9. The three-act comedy was directed by John Dean and student director Nick Zandes.

Mr. Carol, a bank executive, presents his theories on the rights of youth to a high school assembly, unknowingly inciting a chain of events ranging from a petition to abolish gym for girls to the determination of his fourteen-year-old daughter Ginger to become a member of the football team.

Mrs. Carol is convinced that Ginger has the potential of an All-American, but sisters Joan and Jeannie discover that Ginger's gridiron passion makes them the target of jokes at school and creates problems for Joan's boyfriend, Eddie Davis. The humor is increased by the droll sarcasm of Lizzie, the maid.

After Ginger's escapades are brought to national attention in a well-known magazine, Mr. Hoffman is informed by Ed Hoffman, the bank president, that he may lose his job by granting his daughter permission to participate in an all-male sport. When everything appears to be hopeless, Ginger takes time out to enjoy being a girl and discovers a new interest--Tommy Greene.

TOP ROW: Bob Heitsenrether as Eddie Davis; Bill Boyer as Tommy Greene; Fred Holler as Mr. Wilson, the principal; Phil Greiner as Ed Hoffman; and Dave Harper as Mr. Carol. 2nd ROW: Anita Loser as Ginger; Evelyn Lundy as Jeannie; Kathy Musser as Mrs. Carol; Linda Walters as Joan; and Bev Brubaker as Lizzie.

The Great Society: Corty Byron, Jim Musser, Dave Kob, Bill Boyer, and Larry Byron.

EAHS Students Televised On Channel 8 Dance Party

One hundred senior high students traveled by bus to the studios of WGAL-TV in Lancaster to appear on Channel 8 Dance Party, November 25. The weekly televised program of dancing and entertainment features high schools throughout the area. Terry Abrams hosts the show, assisted by Trixie Beldon.

Students enjoyed dancing to records and participating in dance contests. Student Council Vice-President Rick Gibble represented the school in telling about its size and location and presented Terry Abrams with a school pennant and Bear mascot. Elizabethtown's own Great Society gave a special performance during the program.

Chaperones for the trip included: Miss Lucy Williams, Mr. Gary Holtzman and Mr. Kenneth Umbenhauer.

The annual Christmas concert, presented December 16, brought the Christmas spirit to EAHS. The program, under the direction of Charles Millard, featured the Junior High boys and girls choruses, choral, string and brass ensembles, Christmas folk music and the senior mixed chorus singing religious music.

Student Council sponsored the Christmas parties for senior high students, Tuesday, December 19, and for junior high, Wednesday, December 20. Activities for the seventh and eighth graders began with the movie "Light in the Forest" and the crowning of Miss Snow Queen, Marian Miller, who later reigned over the dance held in the auxiliary gym. A volleyball game was held between the women's faculty and junior high girls and a basketball game was played between the men's faculty and junior high boys. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria. The senior high saw the movie "Bridge on the River Kwai" and also enjoyed dancing, recreation and refreshments.

"You Can't Take It With You"

The faculty presented the Pulitzer Prize comedy "You Can't Take It With You" on February 2 and 3 to benefit the Elizabethtown Area Education Association Student Scholarship Fund, which annually grants scholarships to deserving seniors. The play, written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, was under the direction of John Dean.

The action takes place in the home of Martin Vanderhof, New York, during the summer of 1936. Grandpa Vanderhof presides over an eccentric family of nonconformists including his play-writing daughter Penelope Sycamore; her husband Paul, who makes fireworks with a bachelor friend, Mr. DePinna; his granddaughter Essie and

Students Gain Political Experience

The Blue and White campaign, in connection with the annual Youth Day in Government program sponsored by the Elizabethtown Junior Chamber of Commerce, taught the basic ideals of democracy and gave practical experience in the workings of democracy. Students nominated candidates for every office from mayor to tax collector, established parties and party platforms, campaigned and used regulation voting machines. Faculty advisers for the project were Mr. Paul Hunsecker and Mr. Dustin Peters.

By random choice the senior class was divided into Blue and White parties. Caucus meetings were held to plan the many phases of the campaign and to think of new ways to influence the voting of underclassmen. Imaginative posters were used for publicity. Blue and white cookies, candy and campaign buttons were distributed. A taxi service was offered to provide transportation to and from school. A dance was held in cooperation with both parties. Party members wore clothing of their party color.

The culmination of the parties' efforts was the assembly, February 14. The school was privileged to have dignitaries from every level of government present--Edwin D. Eshelman (U.S. Congress Representative), Jack Horner (State House of Representatives), and Mayor James Leber. The parties formally presented their candidates and platforms, both seriously and humorously. Election day was February 15.

March 25 the winning party was received in Harrisburg as guests of Senator Snyder. The students met influential statesmen, including Governor Raymond Shafer, during their tour of the Capitol Building. Winning candidates also attended the February meeting of the Elizabethtown Borough Council. Those elected to the school board attended the school board meeting in March.

The 21st annual EAHS Varsity Club Basketball Night was Friday, February 23. Highlighting the evening was a game between the men's faculty and the WSBA "Good Guys". Competition was tough, but the faculty was victorious in the end.

Also included in the evening's activities were a game between the women's faculty and the Varsity Club girls, with the faculty winning again, a biddy basketball game, and a gymnastic exhibition on the trampoline, uneven parallel bars, and high bar. Eleven "peppy and petite" Key Club members led the cheering.

Junior Class Presents "Dear Ruth"

The hastily-arranged marriage of Martha and Chuck takes place in the Wilkins' living room. Left to right are: the Judge, Albert, Lt. Seawright, Chuck, Martha, Ruth, Mrs. Wilkins and Dora.

The Class of 1969 presented the play "Dear Ruth", March 1 and 2. Written by Norman Kresna, the comedy was under the direction of Claudia Nagle and student director Barbara Taylor. The play is set in a New York home during World War II. Sixteen-year-old Miriam Wilkins upsets the household by writing letters to a lieutenant in the Air Force, signing her sister Ruth's name and sending her picture. Lt. Bill Seawright unexpectedly shows up, intending to marry Ruth, thus causing much excitement within the family and upsetting Albert Kummer, Ruth's fiance. Bill, never suspecting the mix-up, proposes to Ruth. In the meantime his sister Martha and his friend Sergeant Chuck Vincent, who had broken off an engagement, are reconciled and married. Bill accidentally discovers the truth about the letters and decides to leave. However, in the end, he and Ruth are also married. The final surprise is the appearance of sailor Harold Klobbermeyer, another one of Miriam's correspondents.

Dora displays a stuffed dog, one of the sentimental presents the Lieutenant sends Ruth.

Contest Held To Create A Crest For EAHS

Charlie Schreiber and Teresa Bomgardner are presented five-dollar checks for their prize-winning crest designs by Senior class president Nick Zandes.

EAHS has its first official crest, originated and designed through the combined efforts of the Class of 1968 and the Student Council.

In late winter when the senior class officers met with Mr. Robert Gadd, a representative from Inter-Collegiate Press, to discuss commencement announcements, they agreed on a design which incorporated a crest.

For the next several weeks a contest was sponsored by Student Council, open to students in grades 7 through 12 to draw an original crest. From the sketches submitted, a committee of Council members selected the two most appropriate.

Senior class officers again met with Mr. Gadd, when the ideas of Teresa Bomgardner and Charles Schreiber were used as a basis for planning the final crest. The new crest consists of a shield superimposed in a circle with our school name and the date it was established. Sections of the shield hold a bear, representing athletics; an open book and pen, representing academics; and a picture of the entrance to the building, representing EAHS. Shafts of wheat surround the shield, signifying our community's location in a rich farming area.

In addition to appearing on the cover of this book and on the commencement announcements, the new crest will appear in the future on diplomas and on a metal plaque which will be presented to the school as a gift from the senior class.

"Finnian's Rainbow" Staged

A whimsical yet thought-provoking story, set in the mythical Rainbow Valley, Missitucky, was "Finian's Rainbow", EAHS's fifth musical production. Presented April 5 and 6, it was produced with the combined efforts of Charles Millard (musical director), John Dean (stage director) and Ned Wert (staging and production). The cast and chorus, consisting of approximately sixty people, used singing and dancing to portray the dual theme of love and intolerance. The musical was written by Fred Saidy, with music and lyrics by Berton Lane and E. Y. Harburg. Accompanists for the performances were Debbie Nye, Mary Umberger and Jeff Uhlig.

The third annual May Day, held Friday, May 3, was a change from the regular school schedule. Classes were held in the morning and students attended them in "dress-down" clothing. The afternoon activities included the presentation of the May Queen and her court, selections by the band, the Maypole dance and German folk dances, a tug-of-war, junior high track events and baseball games, a dance, booths sponsored by clubs and free refreshments for all.

Seniors Donna Hossler and Ralph Aldinger are among those enjoying refreshments in the cafeteria.

Kay Floyd and Bill Pry were the first to arrive and be greeted by the receiving line consisting of Todd Dawson and date Carol Bomgardner, Lynda Wenger and escort Rick Givens, June Copenhaver and escort Ken Shank, David Grosh and date Robin Hurst, and Dale Hynicker and date Debbie Horner.

Students are seen coming through the entrance of the cafeteria, a hole in the sunken ship.

With A Memorable Prom

"Neptune's Court" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom, May 25, when two hundred couples danced to the music of the Belfonts. The Juniors used their imagination and many hours of work to transform the lobby into an underwater fantasy. As formally-dressed couples arrived, they walked through a rocky jetty to be greeted at the entrance to the lobby by the receiving line of Jr. Class officers and their dates.

Focal point of the lobby was an underwater castle built over the planter. Huge glittering fish and seahorses were suspended from the ceiling, while on the ocean floor was a treasure chest filled with coins and jewels. The cafeteria, a sunken ship, gave a romantic atmosphere with candlelight and small tables. The refreshments included crackers in the shape of small fish, punch, and a birthday cake for Jr. Class President Todd Dawson.

Mr. Dustin Peters devoted his time and efforts as faculty adviser to the prom, helping to make it a memorable evening for all.

A post-prom party sponsored by the Jaycees was held in the Moose building from midnight to 5:00 a.m. Music was provided by the Volume III from Hershey and refreshments were again served.

Gerri Hoover and date Jamie Rowley register at the Moose building.

Informal dress was called for in the more relaxed atmosphere of the post-prom party.

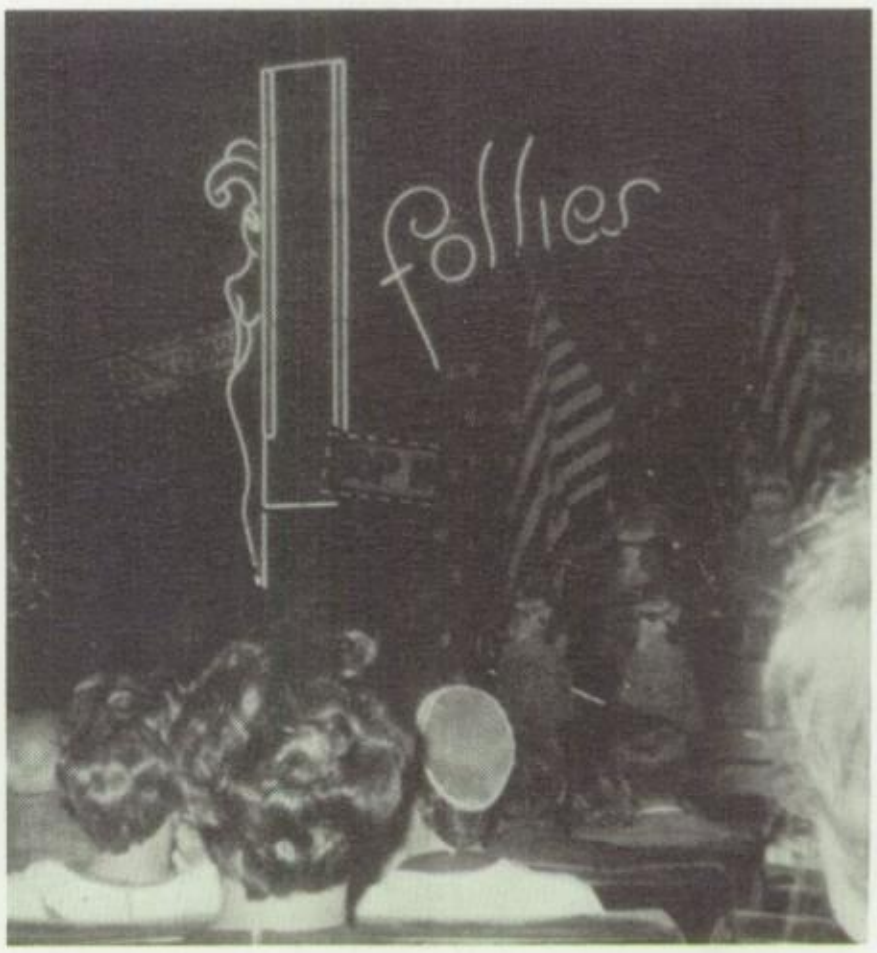
Seniors Take Class Trip To New York City

Yankee stadium was the site of the baseball game between the Yankees and Minnesota, June 4.



Names of songs by Irving Berlin appeared in neon lights on the stage at Radio City Music Hall.

The seniors, still half asleep, met at the school at 5:00 a.m., Tuesday, June 4, to travel to New York. Arriving in the city at 10:00, they first visited Radio City Music Hall. The movie showing was the hilarious "Odd Couple" starring Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau. The live show featured words and music by Irving Berlin.

After lunch at Horn and Hardart, the group went on the three-hour Circle Line boat trip around Manhattan and saw the New York skyline, the Statue of Liberty, Columbia University football stadium, and many other sights.

The evening was spent at Yankee Stadium watching the Yankees play Minnesota. The seniors returned to the school by 3:00 a.m. Wednesday, again half asleep.

181 Receive Diplomas At Annual

From the time the seniors received their caps and gowns on May 24, they felt a combination of both excitement and anxiety. Sunday evening, June 2, the baccalaureate service was held in the auditorium. Seniors marched solemnly down the aisles in their gowns as the "Majestic March" was played on the organ. The Rev. Donald Seiders served as liturgist and the Rev. Glenn Ginder spoke on the topic "I Hear Voices", dealing with the many decisions one faces as he goes out into the world. Special music was provided by the Brethren in Christ Church Choir. The "Grand Chorus" was played during the graduates' recession up the aisle, ending the service.

Monday, June 3, was the seniors' last day of classes. Tuesday they traveled to New York for their class trip. Thursday and Friday mornings commencement rehearsals were held.

Finally, June 7, the seniors found themselves nervously awaiting the opening strains of "Pomp and Circumstance", as they realized they were embarking upon the final phase of high school life. After taking their seats on stage, the National Anthem was sung and the Rev. Ginder delivered the invocation. Student speakers urged the seniors to continue to dream, to work toward their dreams and to settle for nothing less than the fulfillment of their dreams. The entire class then joined in singing "The Impossible Dream".

Superintendent Phillip Daubert and Principal Dean Steinhart announced the awards given to students outstanding in scholastic achievement, sports and citizenship. Parents were then asked to rise and were acknowledged by applause from the seniors. J. Carlton Schuldt, President of the Board of Education, presented the class, after which C. A. S. Hollinger, Vice-President, handed each senior his diploma as class president Nick Zandes read his name. Nick then led the ceremonious changing of the tassels from the left side of the cap to the right side. Following the benediction by the Rev. William Groff, the Class of 1968 marched out with mixed emotions, now graduates of Elizabethtown Area High School.

The Bears closed the football season with three victories, giving a total of four wins and six defeats. Coach William Frantz commented, "Most of our strength lies in the underclassmen. We have only seven seniors." The wealth of underclassmen made this a rebuilding year for the team. With many returning lettermen next year, the future seems bright for the Bears.

The varsity hockey team, coached by Jane Hoover and Lucy Williams, finished the 1967 season with a 5-2 record. With four returning lettermen and three other seniors, the team continued the enthusiasm, determination and drive characteristic of past hockey teams. The Bearettes won thirteen County High field hockey titles in the past seventeen years. Under Coach Hoover the team has put together a record of 128 wins, 22 tie games and only 12 losses since 1949.

Practice is one of the most important elements for success. The cross-country team ran from five to twelve miles daily during the season.

The 1967 Cross-Country team ended the season with a 10-2 record, the best in its five-year history at EAHS. This proved that continual discipline and self-determination reward themselves in victories--the squad had more victories than in all previous years combined. The team was led by number-one runner Jeff Miller, a senior who holds the E-town team and course record, 13:15. The second and third positions were held by first-year runners, Jim Heistand and Merle Black, whose time was only 4 seconds more, 13:19. The remainder of the squad included Jay Crill, Gary Ebersole, Jim Peters, Dale Uhlig, Jeff Wolgemuth and Bruce McKnight, whose combined efforts helped to make this a season to remember.

A tense moment as E-town takes the advantage. Meanwhile, the other members of the team wait their turn.

With only four seniors on this year's team, the wrestlers only had a 2-12 record, but show promise for coming seasons. Co-captains George Mummau and Rick Gibble placed second and fourth consecutively in their individual weights at the Carlisle Invitational Tournament, Denny Collins was sectional runner-up and Frank Lambert captured first place. On January 5 the Athletic Association and wrestling staff held an open house and clinic to demonstrate moves, holds, rules and scoring used in wrestling. The coaches were Charles Jackson and Gary Holtzman.

Gary Dysart, captain of the team and the only returning letterman, had one of the finest seasons attributed to an E-town player. He scored 403 points in 19 games for a 21.2 average and pulled down 192 rebounds for a 10.1 per-game average.

The track team broke several school, county and district records during this year's successful season. Under the coaching of Mr. Richard Wolf (head coach), Mr. Larry Hoover (field coach) and Mr. Ralph Parrett, the cindermen compiled ten wins and two losses, placing them second in the county league and also second in the county meet.

The mile relay team was undefeated, winning all 12 league meets and the 2 non-league meets plus the county championship. Senior Jeff Miller won the county championship in the two-mile run, after going through the season without losing once in this event. But he gave up his chance for the individual championship to run with the two-mile relay team, typical of the sportsmanship displayed by the entire squad.

Despite determined efforts, the girls track team, under the coaching of Miss Lucy Williams, finished the season with all losses. Because girls track is relatively new at EAHS and there was only one senior participating this year, it is hopeful that with time and experience we will produce a winning team.

Baseball Team Finishes With 6-8 Record

With little experience, a lack of long ball hitters and sound defense players, and only one senior, the baseball team experienced a total of seven wins and nine losses and a 6-8 league record. The many promising sophomore and junior team members finishing the season will be back next year with more experience which should pay dividends then.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Mr. Phillip Daubert Now Serves As Superintendent Of Schools

With the new title of district superintendent, Mr. Phillip Daubert, formerly supervising principal, is now an officer of the state and directly commissioned by the Department of Public Instruction. He is the chief administrator not just for EAHS, but for all the elementary schools in the district as well, and is responsible for their total operation--budget, buildings and maintenance, curriculum, transportation, and personnel.

It is his job to work with the Board of Education in serving as the media between the community's wishes and the school's needs. He carries out the Board's decisions and keeps them informed as to developments in the district.

High School Principal Is Mr. Dean Steinhart

One of the major jobs of Mr. Dean Steinhart, high school principal, is to provide the proper atmosphere for instruction at EAHS. To do this he must have close contact with both faculty and students. He is also responsible for maintaining good public relations with the community.

Having part in nearly every phase of the school, he sees that the teaching is of the highest quality, sets standards of behavior and discipline, approves all school activities, plans schedules for students and teachers, and prepares the high school budget.

MR. DORSEY ENCK

As assistant to the district superintendent, Mr. Dorsey Enck's responsibilities are many. In addition to supervising the writing and implementation of curriculum for kindergarten through grade 12 for all Elizabethtown schools, he is in charge of Federal programs, student-personnel services, research and development of new programs on an experimental basis, and in-service education for teachers. He also serves as director of the summer school.

Capable Assistants Aid Administrators

Mr. Richard Warden, assistant to the principal, is the supervisor of all activities in school and out of school. He is also concerned with student discipline and policy enforcement, attendance, substitute teachers, and general teacher supervision and observations.

MR. RICHARD WARDEN

MRS. SARA STEELMAN

A new life is beginning for you. The guidance staff wishes you well in your new tasks and new challenges. In many ways you have been an interest and concern of ours for the past six years. We have watched you develop toward becoming responsible and responsive adults. This is one of the main functions of guidance. We seek not to solve your problems, but to help you grow in self-understanding and in the ability to solve your own problems as they occur.

We want to assure you of our continued interest in your progress through life. If you should desire further help, we are always available.

English Means More Than Just Grammar

To this generation I would say:
Memorize some bit of verse of truth or beauty.
It may serve a turn in your life.
Edgar Lee Masters

The lines above illustrate poetically one of the major responsibilities of the staff of English teachers at any high school--to make certain that each generation of students has the opportunity to feel the thrust of truth and beauty in literature. All students should be able to linger in Robert Frost's snowy woods, to walk among the tombstones in Spoon River, or to stare with dismay at the scene of Karl Shapiro's auto wreck. More importantly, they should be permitted to share the ideas of great men who have taught that reason is better than violence, love stronger than hatred, and brotherhood nobler than bigotry. That they do understand these concepts is more important today than it has ever been before. That they do understand them is a primary objective of the English Department.

All three serve to develop musical skills and acquaint the student with repertoire available, and a creative performance of same. The required music of seventh and eighth grade, under Mr. Millard, is a program designed to increase the students' sensitivity to the many types of music already an integral part of his world.

Art Helps To Encourage Creativity

In the Art Department effort is made to help the student develop a visual interpretation of his environment, work with various media, tools and processes, and study art forms of the past. He learns to exercise good judgment in his own work as well as respect the work of others.

Art is a junior high minor subject and a senior high elective.

Two Libraries Introduces Us To The World Of Books

"The world of books is the most remarkable creation of man; nothing else that he builds ever lasts . . . Monuments fall, nations perish, civilizations grow old and die out. Driving Techniques Taught In Two-Phase Program

EAHS offers a dual program of driver education. In grade 10 each student studies in the class room the essentials of responsible driving. Practical experience is gained in optional behind-the-wheel instruction which is available during the entire year.

Agriculture Department Teaches Useful Skills

MR. ELVIN HESS

The agricultural course, offered to boys in grades 9 through 12 who plan to go into farming, is designed to teach them the things they will need to know in this vocation. They learn to use and maintain farm equipment and gain valuable experience through a home project. Each boy is required to raise a farm animal or a crop, or work on a farm, at a feedmill, or other agricultural business. Every year the Ag Department has a different course of study, with emphasis this year being placed on dairy management.

Students Gain Mechanical Proficiency In Industrial Arts

MR. WILLIAM WERTZ

In industrial arts, boys are prepared for jobs by exploration and teaching, or simply learn to enjoy various materials. They study mechanical drawing, wood working, graphic arts, and metal work. They use machines and make projects from napkin holders to record cabinets.

Variety is one of the outstanding features of our physical education program. Students in grades 7 through 12 study and participate in such sports as archery, basketball, hockey, football, soccer, softball, tennis, track, volleyball, and wrestling. We learn skills on the apparatus and exercise to improve coordination and build muscles. Seniors are offered special units of bowling and recreation.

IN MEMORIAM

CHERYL KRICK

As a cloud of the sunset, slow melting in heaven,
As a star that is lost when the daylight
is given,
As a glad dream of slumber, which wakens
in bliss,
She hath passed to the world of the holy from this.

Whittier

Instead of each senior receiving a white rose, the flower of the Class of 1968, at Commencement this year, the class has donated this money in the sum of two hundred dollars to Heart Haven in Cheryl's name.

Mr. Daniel Hoopert, Mr. Paul Hunsecker, and Mr. Dustin Peters.

Leadership Provided By Officers And Advisers

The seniors were capably led in their activities by four student officers elected by the class and including: Nick Zandes, president; Gary Dysart, vice-president; Margie Hollinger, secretary; and Wafi Eshleman, treasurer.

A committee of three faculty advisers shared the responsibility of supervising not only our class, but the junior and sophomore classes also. They were: Mr. Paul Hunsecker, Mr. Daniel Hoopert, and Mr. Dustin Peters.

We would like to thank all of these people for the time planning, and support they offered to help make this year a successful one for the Class of 1968.

STANDING: Nick Zandes and Gary Dysart. SEATED: Wafi Eshleman and Margie Hollinger.
